ITIDA… back and stronger

Since its establishment in 2005, ITIDA (Information Technology Industry Development Agency) has played a key role in supporting the growth of the IT industry in Egypt. Even in the aftermath of the 2011 revolution, ITIDA had significant contributions in assisting IT companies getting around the the challenges succeeding the recolution. Now with Egypt regaining its stability and strength, ITIDA is coming back with a wider range of programs and initiatives to help IT industry regain its strength locally, regionally, and globally. This session will expose the audience to ITIDA's strategy, and shed the light on some of its new programs and initiatives.